

Threads of Hope

We welcome all interested people - youth and adult; women and men - to join together to help others. We Can Make a Difference!

Mission: To provide hope and help to children and adults within our community and globally by providing handmade items of clothing.

Threads of Hope is a non-profit organization.

We exist through donations of funds and fabric. Our major donor is the Mainland Family in honour of Eileen Mainland. Eileen, a dedicated school teacher, also taught those who journeyed with her to care for others. Eileen's blankets were treasured and so we continue her love and kindness through the creation of Eileen's blankets. We gratefully thank those who have donated their time, funds, fabric and sewing supplies.

- You need not know how to sew as there will be lots for everyone to do. Please bring your usual sewing supplies.
- If you plan on coming for the day, please bring your lunch. Material donations appreciated. Cottons and poly cottons, flannelette, fleece, heavy material for dog beds. We will also be repurposing gently used clothing and pillows.

Threads of Hope is so much more than the actual dress or blanket or whatever we are creating....each item is created with love for its recipient. We hope that this small act of kindness will give them hope in knowing that others care. We remain humbly grateful to be able to help others and are so blessed to live in Canada.
